IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT BOMBAY

APPELLATE SIDE

APPEAL FROM ORDER NO. 184 OF 2007

IN

SPECIAL CIVIL SUIT NO.123 OF 2007

WITH

CIVIL APPLICATION NO. 272 OF 2007

Shri Harbanssingh G.Siddhu ... Appellant
(Orig. Plaintiff)

Vs.

Smt. Yashodhara Madhav Kamat & Ors. Respondents
(Orig. Defendants)

Mr.Ashish S.Gaikwad,Advocate, for Mr. Pramod N. Patil,Advocate for the appellant.
Mr. Sandesh Patil, Advocate, for respondent No.1.
Mr. G.S.Hegde, Advocate, for respondent No.2.

CORAM: J.H.BHATIA,J.

DATE: 30th November,2007.

P.C.

1. Mr. Gaikwad, learned Counsel for respondent

No.1 makes a statement that this Appeal was filed against refulsal to continue ad-interim injunction pending the application, Exhibit 5 for temporary injunction. This Court by order dated 9th March, 2007, directed the trial Court to hear the application, Ex.5 on its own merits. The learned Counsel makes further statement that after that order, the trial Court heard and rejected the application, Exhibit 5. An Appeal against that order is also dismissed by this Court. In view of this, this Appeal does not survive. The Appeal stands disposed of.

2. As the Appeal itself is disposed of as infructuous, the present Civil Application No.272 of 2007 does not survive and stands disposed of accordingly.

(J.H.BHATIA,J.)